Thinking and acting for himself on all questions, he will not look to popular applause for his reward; but to his own conscience and the praise that it will give for endorsement of what he will be compelled to do. And such a man is the crying want of the place for which he is manned. We trust that those who do not enjoy Mr. Dow's personal acquaintance will consider these assurances sufficient. All who do know him will support him as a duty that they owe to good order, and a duty that they owe to good order, and the proper administration of the law. OOD IT IS MOVING.

Whatever the leigraph may say, we are credibly informed that the Army of the Potomac is on the move. It may not have crossed the Rappahamock; it may not have intended to cross; but it is moving. crossed the Rappaharmock; it may not have intended to cross; but it is moving. A splendid army it is! All the bad patarial weeded out; all the disloyalty squelched; the men confident in the great power of their commander; this commander implicitly believing in his men; all the appointments as they should be; all the shopes for a victory! We believe it will win, because we believe in Joe Hooker, and the soldiers whom his will and discipline have created; and we are impatient for the day of trial to come, for come how or when it may, we shall be the exultant throubclers of a glorious Union victory!

THE OBEAT MYSTERY.
The edition and publishers of this paper have no knowledge of the manner in which their reporters attending upon the Holy Inquisition of Joliet get the testimony of without suspecting the Chief Inquisitor— his Lordebly, the Distop—of exacting from others pledges that he will not observe, we may say that when the party, our boys may say that when the party, our boys among the rember, were on their way to Jollet to open the Court, his Lordship promised the chief of our reportorial staff that he world, or might from time to time, give the public, through him, such facts in the case as he might choose to have published to the world. If, under this promise, we are indebted to his Lordship for the testimony that has appeared up to this time, we shall be giad to make due asknowledgment of the fact. As the reports furnished are all prejudical to the prisoner, we are not without hope that the Bishop is gratifying the expectations that his promise excited. If so, we entreat him to release our reporters from the obligations promise excited. If so, we entreat him to release our reporters from the obligations of secrety that they have taken, as we are dying with curiosity to have the great mystory explained. Jonzer, April 18, 1862.

Mrs. White has occupied the witness stand to-day, and a portion of the time was devoted to her cross-examination, which was very searching. Since her testimony has fallen so far short of the expectations of the prosecution, either from their instructions, or from some other cause, she has declined answering saveral important questions, propounded by the attorney for the defence, and has made an effort on several occasions to give indirect answers. The counsel refused to proceed with the trial, unless the witness answered such questions as were proper, and were pertinent to the points under lavestigation. The Court seeing the dillemma in which the firm and justifiable stand of the defence had placed it, decided that Mrs. White should make such replies to these questions as she deemed prop-

RESULTS OF THE CHARLESTON

Iron-Clads but Little Damaged

The excellent correspondent of the Boston Journal writes as follows of the condition of the Monitors, after the attack on Sumter:

"As stated at the close of my account of the magigament, it was emposed by every one that the attack would be renewed on Wednesday afternoon. At his o'clock Tussday evening the captains and commanders of the fleet were called on board the flag-ship.
Each gave his account of the fight, and such returned to his ship with the expectation of a renewal of the bastic. The Chief-Engineer, Mr. Stimers, under whose direction the Monitors were built, visited each, examined them carefully, and reported that by noon of Weduesday they would be in good condition for a renewal of the engagement; that no serious injury, except to the Keckut, had been recovered; that in his opinion they could stand as mitch hammering as they had already re-

The crews who reason of what can be done by what has been, are eager to try their strength in a decisive contest, which will be a visiorry, or a defeat, or a repulse. I have it from good authority that the crew of the Ironidee will refrain from giving the Admiral the customery hearty cheer usual when a commander transfers his flag to another ship.

sides will refrain from giving the Admiral the customery hearty closer usual when a commander transfers his flag to another ship.

In the army, where discipline its lax conipared with the navy, where men express their opicions freely, there is mortification, chargin and disgust. The troops of the department have had but five opportunities to meet the enemy. They were ready for the encounter. The singe-train was complete, the ordinance ample for offensive operations. Alt of their expectations have vanished. They see nothing but at insertive summer, a did compaging, which is a soldier's horror.

The result is hot what was haped or expected. We who watched the centess were not surprised to see the fleet withdrawa. for the expedition had been absordaned.

What WAS ACCOMPLIANCE.

Notwithstanding the Ironaides did not get into action to do much; not withstanding the Keckak was so soon done for; notwithstanding two or three of the Monitors had their guns dissibled temporarily by their recoil, a good deal was accomplished. It was undoubtedly wise on the part of Admirtal Dupont to withdraw the freet from the night, but there are different opinions as to the wisdom of the absolonment of the expedition. There are naval officers who believe that Samter can be made a heap of rubbish with the present iron-clad fleet.

In conclusion I have only to say that there is no reason for discouragement, but, on the contrary, we have obtained declaive and conclusive oridence that the reduction of Samter is only a work of time, that sooner or later, is only a work of time, that sooner or later,

The new nominess were all of them strictly loyal men. The Democratic party in this city, which met in convention to-day, to make out their own platform, were not loyal, as two of the resolutions at least, which they passed, were revolutionary, and opposed to the Administration and the Union. He wanted to call attention to the man who was nominated by the Republican party, as Recorder for the city. He knew him well, for nine years, and he could say this of him, that he was one of the most industrious lawyers at the bar, and was thoroughly honest, having rises from one position to another until he had commanded the respect of all the members of the bar. He possessed qualities which though not of the flashy sort, were of the best and highest both for first and basiness.

He then paid a handsome tribute to the andidate for Mayor, and passed in review— Mars V. H. RUSCO. oth Ward- H. R. BUGER. W. C. DEAKWAN

NOMINATION OF A CLEAN COPPER

The Copperhead Convention met at the Re-corder's Court Room, on Saturday morning last, and nominated a clean copper ticket as might have been expected. The delegates represented everything effect intelligence and support of the Government. The inevit-able Hayes called the Convention to order, and Gilbert C. Walker was made Praddent.

Silbert C. Walker was made President.

Now Expectat Exporent.

Mr. Greenebattm offered some very mild restutions, condemning the government, the administration and the war, which created a great deal of noise, many delegates jumping to their feet and exclaiming, that they were not strong enough, in other words not copper enough in them. The Convention, however, did not doem if best to go before the people in that style and swallowed the milk and waler.

The Convention then proceeded to the houinstead of Mayor, "Nove in" receiving it by acclamation, the whole matter having been cut and dried, when Sherman vetoed a loyal meeting. It was a fair bargain. The man fold his conscience and got tile nomination, but he paid more than the thing was worth.

A FINNY GOWD.

soid his conscience and got the nonmarion, but he paid more than the thing was worth.

A PUNNY CROWD.

The Convention then proceeded to the nomination of Recorder, and the following mother crowd were put in nomination: Hobert S. Wilson, the present incumbent; E. Van Buren, shil-war Democrat; B. F. Ayer, War Democrat; C. M. Willard, lately of Meisphis, which place, it will be remembered, he left very auddenly; B. S. Morris, the poor old man; J. C. Wicker, the defunct School Inspector. The first ballot was taken upon the chances. Wilson was shead by a whole length. Ayer followed by a handsome vote; Van Buren and Wendenland were taken, and when the smoke cleared away, Van Buren and Wilson alone were left, the latter on one leg and badly wounded, the former frominated. Ayer was shaughtered because he was for the war; Willard was given leave to go back to Memphis; the poor old man and Wicker were cold and ready for sepullure.

man and wicker were count and ready for sepuliture.

The run for Treasurer was between Dave Gage and Parks, the latter imagining that he had a sure thing, being a young and thought-less politician. The Horse Railroad was too much for a man on foot, and dage made the best time, coming in, 8 ahead. Considerable sensation was occasioned by enthusiastic Milesians outside the rail voting, and they were mildly requested by the Chair not to do so any more, to which request one of the outside delegation vigorously ordered him to go to the place paved with good intentions.

THE STREATER TODGE.

side delegation vigorously ordered him to go to the place paves with good intentions.

THE STRIPATHY DODGE.

The candidales for Collector were F. Mehring and Ernst Rickel. A seedy looking delegate made a pathetic speech for Riedel. Riedel was a good Democrat; Riedel had spent money; Riedel had swasted much valuable time: Riedel had swasted much valuable time: Riedel had convenient, adequate and familiar; therefore Riedelought to have something. Riedel held out his hat, and the Convention gavethe nomination to the other man. THE FUR PLYING.

The nomination for City Attorney was next in hand. The candidates were poor little Meech, who was suspected of a tinge of Unionism, was laid out for burial purposes, and lost e-pleadid opportunity of getting his salary increased. The Convention wouldn't touch Cameron and Westcott with a forty foot pole, and Adams, whoever he is, got the nomination, whereupon Adams made the following speech:

ABARS—EIS STRICK.

Adams made the rollowing specific and rollowing specific and rollowing specific and rollowing specific and rollowing specific specific and rollowing specific specifi

The regiment has been thoroughly drilled during their sky in camp, and the boys are in a high stale of efficiency. They are carned with improved Entitled Rifes, which are comidered by many, the best arms for infantry, in use.

This regiment was organized in January, 1802. They guarded prisoners until June 26th, when they left for Virginia. During the months of July, August and a portion of September, they were visitioned in Martinsburgh, during which time they were engaged in serviral salirables, under Gea. Julius White, in which they distinguished themselves with credit to the Biste from which they halled. On the 18th of September, they were forced to encuste Martinsburgh, and fall back to Harper's Ferry, arriving there during the creming; on the following morning (the 18th), the snemy opened fire upon the small body of troops then stalloued at Harper's Ferry. The firing continued during all day, each the 18th, and the lefth, and on the morning of the 18th, the post was surrendered to the rebel forces, commanded by Stonewall Jackson, Loe and Longstreet. From there the regiment was sent to Chicago, where they have remained to the present time.

A COPPERNIAD FIRELE.—The great Copperhead Mass Meeting at Metropolitan Hall, Saturday evening, so industriously advertised by the Times, was a ridiculous failure. The speakers were imported Germans, who talked to an audience, about half filling the hall, of native frish. The affair was of course a ridiculous failure. There was not a German upon the floor. Germans are not in the habit of sitending Copperhead pow-wows.

This is 1,949 head less than last week, and 1,208 more than the corresponding week of last year.

THE OPENING SO THIN MARKET.

The market opened on Thinysday morning, with a fair supply in the parish-but not by any means equal to the number roceived on the opening day of last week.

The seems supply and more favorable news from the East gave a stimulas to trade, which had ruled very languid the three previous days, and the shippers, speculators and government confractors bought largely and freely. Several lots of presmints bullocks, of which there were a good many from lows and the central part of this State, brought as high prices as at any time this season, while the general bulk of the sales indicate an advance of &c. The market closed firm, with strong indication of further advance.

The activity and boogney which characterized the opening has been well sustained, and all grades have sold at a functional advance over the prices of this day week. Some think that it is $40 better, but we are of opinion that 300,450 would be nearer the mark. Grass
